LIST OF THE PEERAGE OF SCOTLAND,

AS IT STOOD ON THE 1ST MAY 1707; ORDERED TO BE LAID BEFORE THE HOUSE OF LORDS 22ND DECEMBER 1707.

[By this document, commonly called The Union Roll, it is understood that the order of precedence among the Peers of Scotland is regulated; and, with certain amendments, it is that called at all elections of their representatives, though it cannot be looked on as a complete list, such as should exclude claims to Peerages not entered in it. By the Act 10 and 11 Vict. c. 52, it is ordered that, until otherwise directed by the House of Lords, the Lord Clerk Register, or the Clerks of Session officiating at elections in his name, shall not call the title of any Peerage on The Union Roll in right of which no vote has been received or counted since the year 1800. It is farther provided by the Act 14 and 15 Vict. c. 87, that after every election the titles of Peerages in right of which no vote has been received or counted for fifty years or upwards, shall be transmitted to the Clerk of Parliament, and on an order to that effect being issued from the House of Lords such titles shall not be called at future elections, until the House of Lords shall otherwise direct.

The Roll, as originally framed, contained 154 Peers; namely, 10 Dukes, 3 Marquesses, 75 Earls, 17 Viscounts, and 49 Barons; and there have been subsequently enrolled 12 Peers; namely, 1 Duke, 2 Marquesses, 3 Earls, and 6 Barons. These are distinguished by the letters ad. and a date (that of their enrolment) placed after their names. The dates of the creations have been prefixed; Peerages which are attainted, extinct, or dormant, are printed in italics; the date of the attainder, extinction, or abeyance, being added; and an asterisk * has been placed after the names of those who are likewise Peers of England, of Great Britain by special creation (all Peers of Scotland being, in terms of the Act of Union, Peers of Great Britain), or of the United Kingdom.]

REGULATIONS FRAMED AND ENACTED IN 1893 BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE CHURCH OF SCOTLAND, TO BE OBSERVED IN THE ELECTION AND APPOINTMENT OF MINISTERS.

I. Upon Vacancy occurring, Moderator of Kirk-Session to be Appointed.—Upon a vacancy occurring in any parish, a meeting of the presbytery shall be held as soon as possible, and within seven days of the vacancy coming to the knowledge of the moderator or clerk; of which meeting notice shall be given by the presbytery clerk to the session-clerk of the vacant parish, with intimation that the members of kirk-session may appear and be heard, if they so wish, in regard to the arrangements to be then made by the presbytery. At this meeting the presbytery shall appoint a minister to declare the vacancy, and shall furnish him with the declaration, which may be in the form of Schedule A 1.* They shall also appoint one of their own number to be moderator of the kirk-session; provided that in collegiate charges, and in cases for the appointment of an assistant and successor, such appointment of a moderator shall be for the purposes of these Regulations only, and shall not be made if the minister of the parish intimates that he desires to perform the duties; provided also that, if more than one minister of the parish makes such intimation, the presbytery shall appoint one of them.

II. Procedure in case of Appointment of Assistant and Successor.—When a presbytery has resolved that an assistant and successor shall be appointed in any parish, the date of such resolution by the presbytery shall be held to be the date of the occurrence of the vacancy. The procedure thereafter shall, subject to the qualification in Regulation I., be the same as if a vacancy had occurred in the parish; provided that, in the event of the death of the minister before an election has been made, the date of the occurrence of the vacancy shall in that case be held to be the date of the death of the minister, and procedure shall begin de novo. But if the death of the minister occur after the election, but before induction, no new election shall be made.

III. The Kirk-Session to make up the Electoral Roll.—It shall be the duty of the kirk-session, as soon as possible after the appointment of a moderator, to proceed to make up an electoral roll of the congregation, which shall contain (1) as communicants all persons, not being under church discipline, whose names are upon the communion roll at the date of the occurrence of the vacancy after it has been revised by the kirk-session as at that date; as also those who are, and at that date were, parishioners in communion with the Church of Scotland, and have given in certificates within the time intimated in terms of Schedule A 2, provided such certificates are sustained; (2) as adherents, such other persons being parishioners or seat-holders not under twenty-one years of age, as have claimed in writing within the time intimated as aforesaid, and in the form of Schedule B, to be placed on the electoral roll, and in regard to whom the kirk-session are satisfied that they desire to be permanently connected with the congregation, or are associated with it in its interests and work, and that no reason exists for refusing to admit them to the communion if they should apply. As regards adherents, the decision of the kirk-session shall be final.

IV. Hearing of Claims, and Preparing of Electoral Roll.—At the same time as the declaration of the vacancy as aforesaid is made from the pulpit, the moderator shall cause intimation to be made in terms of Schedule A 2, filled up by the kirk-session, of a meeting of the kirk-session to decide on the claims of persons to be placed on the electoral roll. The time allowed for giving in certificates as communicants, and claims as adherents, shall be not less than seven nor more than eleven free days; and such certificates and claims shall be sent to the session-clerk. At their meeting, which shall be held on the day following the latest day intimated for giving in certificates and claims as aforesaid, the kirk-session shall hear parties having an interest; and shall forthwith, and within seven days from the date of said meeting, prepare the list of the names and addresses of communicants and adherents which they propose as the electoral roll of the congregation, the names being arranged in alphabetical order.

V. Inspection and Final Adjustment of Electoral Roll.—The list of persons proposed as the electoral roll of the congregation having been prepared, the moderator shall cause intimation to be made from the pulpit in terms of Schedule C 1, that it will lie for inspection on the six days immediately following the day of intimation at such place and for such hours as the kirk-session shall fix, due regard being had by them to the convenience of the congregation; and further, that on the Lord's Day on which intimation is made, and on the Lord's Day next following, opportunity will also be afforded for inspecting the list in the session-house, or at the door of the church; and further, that on the Monday or Tuesday immediately following the Lord's Day last mentioned the kirk-session will meet to hear parties having an interest, and will finally revise and adjust said list. At this meeting, or at any adjourned meeting to be held within two days thereafter, the list, having been revised and adjusted, shall be attested by the moderator and clerk as the electoral roll of the congregation, and a certified copy shall be forthwith transmitted to the clerk of presbytery. The congregation for the purposes of these Regulations shall be the persons whose names are on the electoral roll attested as aforesaid; and no person shall be entitled to vote under these Regulations whose name is not on said electoral roll. On the electoral roll attested as aforesaid, and on the copy thereof to be transmitted to the clerk of presbytery, the names shall be numbered, and marked with their numbers, consecutively in the order in which they stand on the electoral roll. If, after the electoral roll has been attested, any communicant on his own application receives a certificate of transference, the session-clerk shall give intimation of such transference to the moderator, who shall thereupon delete the name from the electoral roll, and initial the deletion.

VI. Election of Congregational Committee.—At the same time as the intimation in Schedule C 1 is made from the pulpit, the moderator shall cause intimation to be made, in terms of Schedule C 2, that a meeting of the congregation will be held to appoint a committee of their own number for the purpose of nominating one or more persons to the congregation with a view to the election and appointment of a minister. The day fixed by the kirk-session for the meeting of the congregation for the election of a committee shall be not less than eleven nor more than seventeen free days after the date of intimation. Before proceeding to the appointment of this committee or of a new committee, as hereinafter provided, a resolution shall be passed by the meeting that the number of members constituting the committee shall not exceed a certain number specified in the resolution. The moderator shall preside at the meeting, and the electoral roll, attested as aforesaid, shall be in his hands, and he shall see that only qualified electors take part in the voting. At the close of the meeting the committee shall meet, and shall appoint one of their number to be convener.

VII. Nomination by the Congregational Committee.—The committee shall keep minutes of their proceedings, and at all meetings the convener shall have a deliberative as well as a casting vote. When they resolve to proceed to nominate with a view to the election and appointment of a minister to the vacant church and parish, they shall carry out their nomination in manner following:—They may name and propose one person for election and appointment by the congregation; or, in the event of being unable to resolve on a single nominee, they may name and propose more persons than one with a view to an election and appointment by the congregation; but in any case no nomination shall be made without the express consent of the person or persons to be nominated. No nomination shall be made except at a meeting when all the members are present, or at a meeting specially called by the convener by circular, at least five free days before the day of meeting, bearing that it is for this purpose; and in either case a majority of votes of those present shall determine the person or persons to be nominated. The minute of nomination shall be in the form of Schedule D, and shall be signed by the convener in the presence of the meeting, and sent forthwith by him to the moderator of kirk-session. The moderator, on receiving the minute of nomination from the convener of the committee, shall, as soon as possible, cause it to be read from the pulpit of the vacant church, along with an announcement of the names of nominees (if any) who have intimated their withdrawal. In the event of the only person or all the persons nominated withdrawing, the convener shall forthwith call a meeting of the committee. At said meeting the committee may make a new nomination, or may resolve to take steps thereto, or to take no such steps. If a new nomination is made or resolved on, the committee shall proceed by minute of nomination as hereinbefore prescribed; otherwise the convener shall without delay, in writing, inform the moderator of the resolution adopted.

VIII. Procedure in the Election.—The day fixed by the kirk-session for the election of a minister shall be not less than seven nor more than fourteen free days after the date of intimation of it from the pulpit, which shall be made in terms of Schedule E or Schedule F, at the same time that the minute of nomination is read, said Schedule to be filled up by the kirk-session. The kirk-session in appointing the place of voting, and the time on the day of election (which shall not be the Lord's Day) during which the vote is to be taken, shall have regard to the convenience of the electors, the number who may be expected to vote, and the proper carrying out of the voting arrangements; and the time allowed for voting shall include a certain time during the day as well as in the evening. The moderator shall preside at the election, and may be assisted by such persons as he shall appoint. The election shall be by voting papers in one of the forms prescribed in Schedule G, which and their counterfoils shall be numbered consecutively, and which shall be provided by the kirk-session, and supplied to the electors at the place and time of voting. All means necessary to carry out the voting shall be provided by the kirk-session. The moderator shall have the electoral roll at the place of voting, and he shall see that a voting paper is not supplied to any person whose name is not on the electoral roll; and also that, as each elector receives a voting paper, the name of that elector is marked on the electoral roll as having voted, and his number on the electoral roll marked on the counterfoil of the voting paper supplied to him. He shall also arrange that the admission of electors shall be properly regulated, and that they retire after voting. Each elector, after receiving a voting paper, shall mark it as directed on the paper, and shall then place it in a ballot-box. The moderator, or his deputy or member or members of the presbytery presiding along with him (if any) appointed under Regulation XV., shall give assistance if desired by any elector in marking the voting paper, but no other person shall give such assistance; and care shall be taken that there is no interference with voters in marking their papers, and that they have an opportunity of marking them without divulging the vote given: provided always that the fact of a voting paper containing the means of identification shall not invalidate the vote, if it is otherwise sufficiently marked. The ballot-box and papers shall be under the charge of the moderator, who shall be responsible for their safe keeping.

IX. Mode of Voting when One Person only is Nominated.—If only one person is nominated, and has not withdrawn, or only one person remains as nominee in consequence of another or others withdrawing, the moderator shall, when the minute of nomination is read from the pulpit, cause intimation to be made, in terms of Schedule E, that a vote of the congregation will be taken “For” or “Against” electing and appointing the said nominee. If the number of qualified electors voting “For” the person nominated exceeds that of those voting “Against” him, he shall be held as elected and appointed; otherwise it shall be held that no election has been made.

X. Mode of Voting when more Persons than One are Nominated.—If more persons than one are nominated, and not withdrawn, the moderator shall, when the minute of nomination is read from the pulpit, cause intimation to be made, in terms of Schedule F 1, that a vote of the congregation will be taken. An elector may vote for any one of the persons nominated, or he may vote against them all. If one of the persons nominated receives a majority of the whole votes recorded, he shall be held as elected and appointed to the vacant church and parish. If no one of the persons nominated receives a majority of the whole votes recorded, the name of the person (or, in case of equality, persons) receiving the lowest number of votes, together with the name or names of any for whom no vote has been recorded, shall be struck off, and a second vote shall be taken on the person or persons remaining; and the same course shall, if necessary, be followed by successive votings until only one person remains. If he has not received a majority of the whole votes recorded at that voting, the procedure with respect to him shall be the same as if he had been the only person originally nominated. If at the final vote he does not receive a majority of the whole votes recorded, or if at any voting all the nominees have equal votes, or there is a majority of the whole votes recorded against all the nominees, it shall be held that no election has been made. When a second or further vote has to be taken, not more than ten free days shall elapse between it and the date of the vote immediately preceding, and previous intimation shall be made from the pulpit in terms of Schedule F 2, and the voting may be fixed for a day not less than three days after the date of intimation.

XI. Counting and Declaration of the Votes, and Call.—As soon as practicable after the close of the voting the moderator shall proceed, in presence of the kirk-session, with the counting of the votes, in which he may be assisted as provided in Regulation VIII. He shall not count any papers in which, according to his judgment, the marking is uncertain. He shall, after the counting has been completed, make a declaration of the votes in one of the forms of Schedule H, said declaration to be affixed to the door or notice board of the church within two days after the day of voting. He shall also, after the counting is completed, seal up the voting papers used in the voting, and the counterfoils, to be handed to the presbytery clerk if called for by the presbytery, and after the settlement they shall be destroyed. The moderator shall cause intimation to be given from the pulpit, as soon as possible after an election and appointment has been made, that a call in the usual form will lie with the session-clerk, or other suitable person, for a certain time, being not less than seven free days, to receive the signatures of the congregation and of parishioners.

XII. *Transmission of Documents to Presbytery.—After an election and appointment has been made, the moderator of kirk-session shall without delay transmit the relative documents to the moderator or clerk of the presbytery of the bounds, to be laid before the presbytery. The documents to be so transmitted shall be: Minute of nomination by the congregational committee; all subsequent intimations to the congregation; and the declaration of the election and appointment given under the hand of the moderator of kirk-session. The moderator of kirk-session shall also at the same time inform the presbytery of the steps taken with reference to the call, and of the time during which it is to lie with the session-clerk or other person; and the session-clerk at the expiry of that time shall transmit it to the moderator or clerk of presbytery.

XIII. *Failure to Nominate, and Failure to Elect.—If no minute of nomination from the convener of the congregational committee has been transmitted to the moderator of kirk-session within three months from the date of the election of the committee, five qualified electors of the vacant parish in cases where there are fewer than a hundred names on the electoral roll, and ten qualified electors when it amounts to or exceeds that number, may require the moderator to take steps with a view to a nomination being made. The moderator shall, upon receiving such requisition, state in writing to the convener of the committee that, in the event of no minute of nomination being lodged with him within ten days from the date of writing, the committee will be regarded as failing to nominate. If the committee so fail to nominate, the moderator shall cause intimation to be made as soon as possible from the pulpit of the vacant church, in terms of Schedule I, that the congregation are to proceed of new to elect a committee; and the procedure which is hereinbefore prescribed for the election of a committee shall be followed, but the election may be fixed for a day not less than three free days after the date of intimation. The same course shall be followed where, though there has been a nomination, there has been a failure to elect a minister, followed by a resolution of the committee to make no new nomination. In any other case of failure to elect, the committee, unless they resign and intimate their resignation to the moderator, shall be held as continuing in office, and shall forthwith take steps with a view to making a new nomination; provided always that if, after a failure to elect, a requisition, signed by not fewer than one-fifth of the qualified electors, be lodged with the moderator before the expiry of the third free day, requiring him to call a meeting of the congregation to determine whether the committee shall continue, or to elect a new committee, he shall cause intimation to be made from the pulpit to that effect in terms of Schedule K, and the meeting may be fixed for a day not less than three free days after the date of intimation.

XIV. *Publication of Intimations.—When any intimation provided for in these Regulations has been read from the pulpit, the kirk-session shall cause a copy to be affixed to the door or notice-board of the church; and the form of adherent's claim in Schedule B shall be affixed along with the intimations in Schedule A; and the form of voting paper and directions to voters in Schedule G shall be affixed along with the intimations in Schedules E and F.

XV. *Power of Moderator of Kirk-Session to appoint Deputy.—The moderator of kirk-session may, in case of unavoidable absence, authorize in writing a member of the presbytery to act as his deputy, and he shall specify the occasion on which he is to act. Also, where he deems the number of persons voting, in the election of a minister, to be so large as to render it necessary that more than one person should preside, he may appoint in writing a member or members of presbytery to preside along with him at the voting.

XVI. *Interpretation.—"Free days" shall be held to mean complete days exclusive of those on which the procedure in question begins or ends. The Lord's Day is reckoned as other days are.

TRINITY COLLEGE, GLENALMOND, PERTHSHIRE.

The design of this College was originated in 1841, by members and English connexions of the Episcopal Church in Scotland, "to embrace objects not attainable in any public foundation hitherto established in Scotland, viz.—the combination of general education with domestic discipline and systematic religious superintendence." The College buildings occupy a beautiful and secluded site in the mountain valley of the Almond, about ten miles from Perth, and in their erection, including the embellishment of the College grounds, £100,000 have been expended. The modern side has of late years been developed into a systematic training for boys who pass directly from school into practical life. But boys are prepared for passing direct into the Army and other public services on the classical as well as the modern side by Army classes and special tuition. A new wing, containing Master's house, Class-rooms, etc., has just been completed.

THE UNIVERSITIES OF SCOTLAND.

The four Scottish Universities—at St Andrews, Glasgow, Aberdeen, and Edinburgh—were in 1858-62 reorganized, under the "Universities (Scotland) Act 1858," by an Executive Commission, and as far as possible assimilated. The "Universities (Scotland) Act 1859" made further "provision for their better administration and endowment, and for improving and regulating the course of study;" and also appointed an Executive Commission, armed with large powers not only for regulating the affairs of the Universities, but also for extending any of the Universities by affiliating new colleges to them. The Commissioners, in exercise of the powers conferred by the Act, have made an Ordinance providing for the graduation of women in such Faculty or Faculties in each University as the University Court may think fit. The Ordinance also lays down regulations as to the courses of instruction for women. In the meantime women are being admitted to degrees in Arts, Science, and Medicine.

The four Universities possess a constitution and arrangements nearly uniform. Each University includes three bodies, called respectively the University Court, the Senatus Academicus, and the General Council; and the Commissioners under the Act of 1889 have laid down regulations for the constitution and functions of a Students' Representative Council. The official Heads of each University are :—the Chancellor (who nominates a Vice-chancellor for conferring degrees in his absence), chosen for life by the General Council; the Rector, chosen every three years by the matriculated students; and the Principal or resident Head of the University.

The UNIVERSITY COURT consists of the Rector, Principal, and Assessors, and in Glasgow, Aberdeen, and Edinburgh, the Lord Provost of the city and an Assessor nominated by the Town Council; while in St Andrews, the Provost of St Andrews, the Lord Provost of Dundee, are included. The Court is the supreme governing body of the University. It is a Court of Appeal from the Senatus, and is charged with the administration of the whole revenue and property of the University. It has power to appoint examiners and lecturers, as well as those Professors whose chairs are in the patronage of the University; to define the nature and limits of Professors' duties; to take proceedings against persons employed in teaching or examining; and to grant recognition to the teaching of colleges or individuals for purposes of graduation, under regulations laid down by the Universities' Commissioners, and afterwards by the Universities Committee of Privy Council.

The SENATUS ACADEMICUS, which consists of the Principal and Professors, is empowered to regulate and superintend the teaching and discipline of the University, and to take part in the immediate superintendence of libraries and museums.

Subject to their having complied with the conditions as to registration, the GENERAL COUNCIL consists of the Chancellor, who is President of the Council; the Rector and other members of the University Court; the Principal and Professors; and the Graduates of the University. Failing the Chancellor, the Rector presides; whom failing, the Principal; whom failing, the Chancellor's Assessor; whom failing, the Rector's Assessor; and in the absence of all these officials, the meeting elect a chairman; but in a meeting for the election of Assessors no member of the Senatus can take part. The Council meets twice a year, to consider questions affecting the University. It may also hold special meetings at the instance of the Chancellor, and may adjourn any meeting.

The new Act (1889) also constituted a Committee of Her Majesty's Privy Council, styled the Scottish Universities Committee of the Privy Council.

Two members of Parliament are returned by the four Universities. One of these represents Edinburgh and St Andrews; the other Glasgow and Aberdeen. The electors are the members of the General Council. The Vice-Chancellor is the Returning Officer in the Parliamentary election. Each of the four Universities is also represented on the General Council of Medical Education and Registration by a Representative chosen by the University Court.

The Universities have considerable endowments for distinguished students and graduates, in the form of Bursaries, Scholarships, and Fellowships. Edinburgh possesses a great number of valuable Scholarships and Fellowships; Glasgow is rich in Fellowships, Scholarships, and Bursaries; and there is a good Bursary organization in Aberdeen. Formerly the Scholarships and Fellowships were mostly confined to those who had passed the examinations necessary for the degree of Master of Arts, but of late the number awarded for proficiency in subjects belonging to other Faculties has considerably increased.

Open to all the Scottish Universities are—

I. THE FERGUSON SCHOLARSHIPS,

Founded in 1860 by the Trustees of the late John Ferguson, Esq. of Cairnbrock. They are six in number, of the value of £80 each per annum, and tenable for two years. Three are offered for competition every year,—one in Classics, one in Mathematics, and one in Mental Philosophy. The competitions take place in Glasgow in the month of September (for 1886), and are open to all who have passed the examinations required for the degree of M.A. in one of the Universities of Scotland, provided that not more than six years have elapsed since their first matriculation after the Preliminary Examination pass. Candidates are enrolled, not later than 1st September in each year, at the office of the Trustees, 94 Bath Street, Glasgow, where all necessary information may be obtained.—Secretary, M. S. Tait.

II. SHAW FELLOWSHIP IN MENTAL PHILOSOPHY,

Founded in 1867 by contributors to a Memorial of Sir James Shaw, Bart. It is of the annual value of £170, tenable for five years, and is in the patronage of the Senatus Academicus of the University of Edinburgh. It is destined for the encouragement of the study of Psychology, Logic, Metaphysics, Moral Philosophy, and the History of Philosophy,—studies for which the Scottish Universities have long been celebrated in Europe. It is awarded after competitive examination on these subjects, open to those who have passed the examinations for the degree of Master of Arts in any of the Scottish Universities not more than five years before the time of competition.

III. THE GUNNING VICTORIA JUBILEE PRIZES.

With a view to promote the study of Natural Science among candidates for the Ministry, and to bring out among ministers the fruits of study in Science, Philosophy, Language, Antiquity, and Sociology, Dr R. H. Gunning, of Edinburgh and Rio de Janeiro, has founded ten prizes in the Faculty of Divinity of the University of Edinburgh, to be known as "The Gunning Victoria Jubilee Prizes."

These Prizes are ten in number, and comprise a series of five Prizes of £50, £40, £30, £20, and £10, for excellence in Theological subjects, and a series of five Prizes of similar values for excellence in Natural Science subjects. In their order the Prizes in each series correspond in value. The successful competitors may each take both the Prize in the Theological and the Prize in the Natural Science series to which their marks may respectively entitle them.

A minimum standard of proficiency shall be required in each series, and no competitor shall be awarded a Prize who has not attained to this standard in both series. The Prizes are competed for triennially at the close of the Divinity Session, and are open to all students of the Church of Scotland, or other Scottish Churches holding the Confession of Faith, who are graduates of this University, or have attended two classes in the Faculty of Divinity in this University, and who have completed their Theological curriculum within two years of the close of the session when the competition takes place.

The examination in the Natural Science series will be on Natural History, Botany, and Geology, and of the same standard as the First B.Sc. examination in Natural Science. The examination in the Theological series will be in Theology proper, the Language and Literature of the Old Testament, Ecclesiastical History, and Biblical Criticism.

IV. THE BLACK THEOLOGICAL FELLOWSHIP.

This Fellowship was founded in the University of Glasgow under the will of Mrs Janet Black (who died in 1876), in memory of her husband, the Rev. Dr William Black, minister of the Barony Parish, Glasgow. It is of the annual value of £147, tenable for one year, and is open to competitive examination to Masters of Arts of any of the Universities of Scotland, who are members of the Church of Scotland, and who complete the ordinary curriculum of Theological study in the University of Glasgow in the year of competition.

The Degrees conferred by each of the Universities are the following:—Master of Arts (M.A.); Bachelor of Medicine (M.B.), Bachelor of Surgery

(Ch.B.), Doctor of Medicine (M.D.); Master of Surgery (Ch.M.); Bachelor of Laws (LL.B.), Bachelor of Law (B.L.);* Bachelor of Divinity (B.D.); Bachelor and Doctor in pure Science (B.Sc. and D.Sc.); and the two honorary degrees of Doctor of Laws (LL.D.) and Doctor of Divinity (D.D.);—together with some which are conferred by Edinburgh, viz., Bachelor and Doctor (B.Sc. and D.Sc.) in the Department of Public Health; Bachelor of Music (Mus. Bac.) and Doctor of Music (Mus. Doc.); Doctor in Mental Science (D.Sc.), Doctor in Philological Science (D.Sc.). The Degrees of B.Sc. and D.Sc. in the department of Engineering Science, and the Degree of B.Sc. in Agriculture, are conferred both at Edinburgh and Glasgow.

A Certificate conferring the title of Literate in Arts is granted by Edinburgh and St Andrews. A Certificate of Proficiency in Engineering Science, as well as a Diploma in Public Health, is conferred by Glasgow. A Diploma in Public Health is conferred by Aberdeen.

The Professorships are distributed (except at St Andrews, where Law is not taught) under five Faculties—Arts; Science; Theology; Law; Medicine—and there is at Edinburgh a Faculty of Music.

The chief function of the Faculty of Arts is to provide Students with a general and liberal education, preparatory to their entering one of the three professional Faculties. The special province of the Faculties of Theology, Law, and Medicine is to train in professional studies.

The possession of a degree in Arts exempts from the preliminary examination required from candidates for entrance to the Medical and Legal professions, and (conditionally on certain subjects being included) to the Church.

Under the Commissioners' Ordinance of 1892, Candidates for Degrees in Arts, Medicine, and Science, are required, before beginning attendance on Graduation Classes to pass a Preliminary Examination, which, in the case of candidates for the degree in Arts, embraces—1, English; 2, Mathematics; 3, Latin or Greek; and, 4, one of the following—Latin or Greek (if not already taken), French, German, Italian, and Dynamics. In the case of the B.Sc. degree in Engineering Science, Students may enter on their curriculum before passing the preliminary examination, but they must have passed it before appearing for the degree examination. Students who have not passed the Preliminary Examination may attend Classes in the Faculty of Arts, but such attendance does not qualify for graduation.

The course of study for the Degree of M.A. extends over three academic years. Candidates who began attendance on Classes before 1st October 1892 may, however, graduate under the regulations then in force. Candidates for Graduation in Arts, after passing the Preliminary Examination, must attend Classes and pass Examinations in at least seven subjects, selected from the following Departments:—

1. Language and Literature.—Latin, Greek, English, French, German, Italian, Sanskrit, Hebrew, Arabic or Syriac, Celtic, Modern Greek.

2. Mental Philosophy.—Logic and Metaphysics, Moral Philosophy, Political Economy, Education (Theory, History, and Art of), Philosophy of Law.

3. Science.—Mathematics, Natural Philosophy, Astronomy, Chemistry, Zoology, Botany, Geology.

4. History and Law.—History, Archæology and Art (History of), Constitutional Law and History, Roman Law, and Public Law.

The selection of subjects is restricted as follows:—Adequate instruction in each selected subject must be provided in the University; four of the subjects must be—(a) Latin or Greek; (b) English, or a modern language, or History; (c) Logic and Metaphysics or Moral Philosophy; (d) Mathematics or Natural Philosophy; and further, the whole subjects taken must include both Latin and Greek, or both Logic and Moral Philosophy, or two of the three following, viz.—Mathematics, Natural Philosophy, Chemistry.

The degree of Master of Arts may be taken with Honours in any of the * Bachelor of Laws and Bachelor of Law are not conferred at St Andrews. Bachelor of Laws is not conferred at Aberdeen.

following Groups:—(a) Classics (i.e., Latin and Greek, with optional subjects, such as Comparative Philology, Ancient Philosophy, and Classical Archæology). (b) Mental Philosophy. (c) Mathematics and Natural Philosophy. (d) Semitic Languages. (e) Indian Languages. (f) English (Language, Literature, and British History). (g) Modern Languages and Literature (i.e. French, German, Italian, or Spanish). (h) History.

The degree of B.D. is open in each of the Universities to those who are—(1) graduates in Arts of that University, and have taken a complete Theological Course in a Scottish University or Universities, or in an institution or institutions specially recognised for the purpose by the University Court, or partly in a Scottish University or Universities and partly in such institution or institutions; or (2) graduates in Arts of any Scottish University or other University specially recognised as aforesaid, and have completed their Theological Course, of which not less than two years' attendance shall have been given in the University in which he presents himself for examination. The subjects of examination are Apologetics, Hebrew, Church History, Divinity, and Biblical Criticism; and the examinations must in all cases be conducted at the seat of the University granting the degree.

The course of Study for Degrees in Medicine extends over five years, and the courses of Study for Degrees in Pure Science, in Engineering, and in Agriculture, extend over three years. In Aberdeen the Degrees in all the Faculties are open to women, and in Edinburgh Degrees in Arts, Science, Medicine, and Music.

In the University of St Andrews the title of LL.A. is conferred upon women who pass in seven subjects (one at least being a language). The subjects are those taught in the University, and in addition History, and the French, German, and Italian Languages and Literature, and several of the Sciences. The standard of attainment is the same as that required for the M.A. degree. In the event of the several subjects necessary for the M.A. degree being passed successfully the University indicates the fact in the certificate granted.

THE UNIVERSITY OF ST ANDREWS,

The most ancient of the Scottish Universities, was founded in 1411 by Wardlaw, Bishop of the diocese. Two years later, on petition of James I., the Bishop, and others, the foundation, with benefactions annexed to it, was sanctioned, and privileges and immunities were secured to it, by Papal bull of Benedict XIII. From the first there existed the Faculties of Arts, Theology, and Canon Law. In 1430, a pedagogium was erected for the Faculty of Arts. The University has undergone numerous changes of constitution. In the sixteenth century it came to comprise three distinct corporate colleges:—1. St Salvator's College, founded in 1450; 2. St Leonard's College, founded in 1512; 3. The College of St Mary, founded in 1537.

In 1747, the colleges of St Salvator and St Leonard were united by Act of Parliament, and called the United College of St Salvator and St Leonard.

As an academical body the University now "consists," to quote the Calendar, "of a Chancellor, Rector, Principals, Professors, Registered Graduates and Alumni, and Matriculated Students; while its government is vested in the University Court."

In 1892 the classes in Arts, Science, Medicine, and Theology were opened to women students, who are taught along with men, and prepared for graduation along with them. In 1893 the University received the sum of £30,000, to be spent by it in bursaries open to students of both sexes attending the University—one-half of this sum being devoted to women exclusively.

The winter session in the United College opens about the middle of October, and closes towards the end of March. The summer session in 1896 will commence on 20th April and close on 26th June. In St Mary's College, the session commences early in November, and closes in the end of March.

The General Council meets twice a year, on the last Thursday of March and the last Friday of November. The election of Rector takes place every third year.

The aggregate annual value of the prizes, bursaries, and scholarships at St Andrews is about £3000.

In 1894-95 the number of students who matriculated was 261; the number who graduated was 58—viz.: in Arts, M.A., 14; in Medicine, M.D., 10; M.B., C.M., 0; in Divinity, B.D., 27; in Science, B.Sc., 7. Members of the General Council, 1483. The number of those who voted at the contested election for the M.P. returned in December 1885 was 1257.

THE UNIVERSITY OF GLASGOW

Was founded by bull of Pope Nicholas V., obtained by King James II. at the instigation of Bishop Turnbull in 1450. From the beginning it taught Canon and Civil Law, Theology and the Arts, and was empowered to confer degrees in all Faculties. In its earlier days, its educational labours are said to have been carried on near the cathedral, in a building afterward known as the "Old Pedagogy," now swept away by the operations of the City Improvement Trust; while the General Congregations of the University and of the Faculties met in the chapter-house of the cathedral. In 1459, James, first Lord Hamilton, granted to the Faculty of Arts, which thenceforward grew in importance, the site occupied by the buildings abandoned in 1870.

In 1577, King James VI. granted increased funds in a charter called the Nova Erectio.

By this charter provision was made for the support of a Principal, who was to teach Theology, and three Regents in Philosophy. From this small beginning the University continued to make progress till the era of the Restoration, at which time it had, besides the Principal, eight Professors and Regents in Theology, Medicine, and Arts. The restoration of the Episcopal Church deprived it of a considerable portion of its revenues, and in consequence several of the Professorships fell into abeyance, but after the Revolution it began again to prosper. In the first twenty years of last century, six Professorships were either originally founded or revived, and another in 1760. The remaining seventeen Professorships have been founded during the present century.

Among the eminent men who have adorned this University during the last and present centuries may be mentioned the names of Hutcheson, Adam Smith and Reid, Black and Cullen, Robert Simson, John Millar, Moor, and Sandford.

For upwards of four hundred years, the University occupied the site which it quitted in 1870, and it occupied its late buildings for upwards of two hundred years. In 1864 these buildings and adjacent lands were sold, and extensive and handsome new buildings, designed by Sir G. Gilbert Scott of London, have been erected on an admirable site in the west end of Glasgow. The new buildings, of which the foundation-stone was laid by the Prince and Princess of Wales in October 1868, and which were formally opened for the purposes of the University on the 7th November 1870, have cost upwards of £500,000; and in aid of their erection subscriptions have been received, chiefly in Glasgow and the neighbourhood, to the amount of above £256,000. Under the will of the late Mr Charles Randolph, of Glasgow, a legacy amounting to upwards of £70,000, destined mainly to the extension and maintenance of buildings, is in course of being paid over to the University.

There are two sessions—the winter session, opening in October, and closing in the end of March; the summer session, opening in the end of April, and closing in July. Classes in the Faculty of Theology do not meet in summer.

The Scholarships, Fellowships, Bursaries, and Prizes, the funds of which are held and administered by this University, amount in annual value to about £8000, and including funds held by outside Boards and Trustees, the total annual value of such foundations open to students of Glasgow University amounts to over £14,000. The most valuable of these are four George A. Clark Scholarships, each about £180 in annual value, two 1851 Exhibition Science Scholarships (each £150), the Black Theological Fellowship (£147), two Eglinton Fellowships (each £100), a Metcalfe Fellowship (£100), three Euing Fellowships (each £80), a Luke Fellowship (£80), three Snell Exhibitions, tenable three years at Oxford (each £123), a Scott Scholarship (£80), a Robert Donaldson Science Scholarship (£62), eight John Clark (Mile-end) Scholarships (each £50), two Breadalbane Scholarships (each £50), and three Lloyd's Register Naval Architecture Scholarships (each £50). The Bursaries in connexion with the Faculty of Arts are 291 in number, and are of the aggregate annual value of £7280; there are 33 in the Faculty of Theology, worth annually about £846; 4 in the Faculty of Law, worth annually £83; and 31 in Medicine, with an annual value of £766. Besides these, there are 50 bursaries, worth annually about £1320, which are not restricted to any one of the Faculties, and several Bursaries for Science subjects. Competitive examinations for the Bursaries in Arts, Theology, and Medicine are held in the University at the beginning of each winter session.

For students desirous of entering the Army, the University holds an Examination which the War Office accepts as equivalent to the examination at the English and Irish Universities for similar candidates. It consists of three out of the seven examinations required for the old degree of Master of Arts.

The University Library contains an extensive and valuable collection of books, which is always increasing by donations, and by a grant of £707 per annum from the Treasury as compensation for the loss of the Stationers' Hall privilege, now merged in the sum allocated to Glasgow by the Commissioners out of the general Parliamentary grant.

The Hunterian Museum was founded by the eminent William Hunter, M.D., who, by his will, dated 1783, bequeathed to the University his valuable collection of books, manuscripts, coins, paintings, anatomical preparations zoological and mineral specimens, and archæological relics.

As regards the instruction of women with a view to graduation, the University Court of the University of Glasgow, under the powers conferred by the Ordinance on that subject, resolved to provide such instruction mainly by instituting separate classes for women students. An offer having been made to convey to the University Court the buildings, grounds, and endowments (amounting to upwards of £25,000) of Queen Margaret College, Glasgow, an institution established in 1833, and in which since that time classes for the higher education of women had been held, in order that the College might be devoted to the establishment and maintenance of University classes for women exclusively—the University Court resolved to accept the offer. In virtue of this arrangement the teachers in Queen Margaret College are appointed by the University Court, the classes taught there are University classes, and the students are students of the University. The number of matriculated women students in session 1894–95 was 208, of whom 148 were students of Arts, 2 of Science, and 58 of Medicine. It should be mentioned that the buildings and grounds of Queen Margaret College, which are of considerable extent, were placed at the service of the Executive Council of the College, during the time it was conducted separately, by the owner, Mrs Isabella Elder, a lady who has made other munificent benefactions to the University, and that, with her assent and concurrence, the buildings and grounds have been gifted to the University.

The number of matriculated students (exclusive of women students already mentioned) in the session 1894–95 was:—In the Faculty of Arts, 680; Science, 169; Divinity, 71; Medicine, 624; Law, 179; in Arts and Medicine, 8; in Arts and Law, 7; in Arts, Science, and Medicine, 1; Arts and Science, 9; Science and Medicine, 7; total, 1695.

Matriculated Students, in voting for the Rector, are divided into four nations:—

Natio Glottiana (those born in Lanarkshire); Natio Transforthana (those born in the counties lying north of the Forth); Natio Rothseiana (those born in the counties of Renfrew, Bute, or Ayr); Natio Loudoniana (those not already included).

This election takes place every three years on the 15th (or 16th, if the 15th be a Sunday) of November.

THE UNIVERSITY OF ABERDEEN

Was, until 1860, two Universities and Colleges. The one, the University and King's College of Aberdeen, was founded in 1494-5 by William Elphinstone, Bishop of the diocese, and sanctioned by a Papal bull obtained by James IV.; the other, Marischal College and University of Aberdeen, was founded in 1593, under a charter ratified by Parliament, by George Keith, Earl Marischal.

The Universities (Scotland) Act, 1858, includes (as mentioned in the preamble) "The union of the two Universities and Colleges of Aberdeen;" which union the Commissioners appointed by Parliament dated from Sept. 15, 1860. Among the other Scottish Universities, that of Aberdeen now ranks from the foundation of 1494-5. As reorganised it consists of one University, having its classes for Arts and Divinity in what was King's College, and its classes of Law and Medicine in what was Marischal College.

In the election of Lord Rector, the matriculated students are divided, according to their birthplace, into four "nations"—Mar, Buchan, Moray, and Angus; and each nation chooses a procurator to vote for the Rector; and in case of a tie, the election is determined by the majority of students' votes.

The University Library contains above 100,000 volumes. There are also well-equipped class libraries, laboratories, and museums.

Local examinations for pupils of schools are held by the University annually in June at Aberdeen and various other centres in the north of Scotland.

By arrangement with the War Office, the University holds examinations which qualify for admission to the army.

The University of Aberdeen is one of the institutions at which the selected candidates for the Civil Service of India may study during the period of their probation.

There are Bursaries in the FACULTY OF ARTS of the gross annual value of £4618; in the FACULTY OF DIVINITY of £790; in the FACULTY OF LAW of £138; and in the FACULTY OF MEDICINE of £740. There are Scholarships in the Faculty of Arts of the annual value of £725; in the Faculty of Divinity of £35; and in the Faculty of Medicine of £241. University prizes are given of the annual value of £312, besides medals and above £210 in class prizes.

Among the eminent professors and alumni who have adorned the annals of the University, may be named the following:—In Philosophy and Theology, the Forbeses and Scougals, Principal George Campbell, Dr Thomas Reid, Dr Mearns; in Antiquities and History, Boece, Gordon of Straloch, Bishop Burnett, George Chalmers, and Hill Burton; in Polite Letters, Arthur Johnston, Dr Arbuthnot, and Beattie; in the Sciences, Natural and Physical, the Gregories, Colin Maclaurin, Robert Brown, Macgillivray, Nicol, and Clerk Maxwell.

The General Council meets twice a year—on the Wednesday after the second Tuesday of April, and on the Wednesday after the second Tuesday of October. The number of Matriculated Students in the winter session of 1894-95 was 731; in the summer session of 1895, 374, of whom 48 were not Students in any Faculty during the winter 1894-95. The Graduates in 1895 were as follows:—M.A., 65; M.D., 13; M.B. and C.M., 70; B.Sc., 6; Diploma in Public Health, 1; D.D., 5; LL.D., 9; B.D., 7; B.L., 7.

The registered members of the General Council for the year 1895 numbered 3584.

THE UNIVERSITY OF EDINBURGH.

This, though the youngest of the Scottish Universities, annually enrolls the largest number of students. It was founded by James VI. in 1582, and entitled Academia Jacobi VI., or "King James's College," but it originated in a bequest made in 1558, by Reid, Bishop of Orkney, to the Town-Council of Edinburgh, for the erection of a College. The money was at first retained by the Abbot of Kinloss. After a delay of five years, the Council, on the faith of ultimately obtaining the bequest, purchased part of the present site of the University. Queen Mary lent her assistance, granting a charter of presentation to some confiscated church property, but the College buildings were not commenced until 1581. In April 1582, King James incorporated the University by Royal Charter, increasing the grants of Queen Mary.

The title of Edinburgh University to the various rights, privileges, and immunities possessed by the other Universities of the kingdom rests on an Act of the Scottish Parliament passed in 1621, and on subsequent ratifications made in the Treaty of Union and in the Act of Security.

The work of teaching began in 1583, under Robert Rollock, who was at first called Regent. Other Regents or Professors in Greek, Logic, Metaphysics, Ethics, and Physics, were appointed in the following year, when Rollock became Principal.

The University of Edinburgh has long been famous. It has had Archbishop Leighton, Carstairs, Robertson, Sir David Brewster, and Sir A. Grant among its Principals. In the Faculty of Divinity it has numbered among its Professors, Samuel Rutherford, Thomas Chalmers, John Lee, and Robert Lee. Its Medical fame, which arose under Dr Alexander Monro after 1720, is second to that of no university in Europe. As a School of Mental Philosophy it can boast, among its students and professors, of the names of David Hume, Adam Ferguson, Dugald Stewart, Thomas Brown, Sir James Mackintosh, and Sir William Hamilton. The Mathematical and Physical School has numbered among its teachers James and David Gregory, Colin Maclaurin, the greatest English Mathematician after Newton, Playfair, Sir John Leslie, and Forbes; while Dalzel, Hugh Blair, and Aytoun were eminent in other departments of the Faculty of Arts.

The Law Curriculum, comprising (subject to certain options) Roman Law, Scots Law, English Law, Conveyancing, Medical Jurisprudence, Constitutional Law and History, International Law, the Philosophy of Law, and Political Economy, is more complete than that of any other University in the United Kingdom. The degree of LL.B. qualifies for the profession of Advocate in Scotland, and for professional work in other parts of the British Empire; and either this degree or that of B.L. exempts from the Law Agent's Examination, with the exception of the examination in procedure.

The Degree of Bachelor of Laws (LL.B.) is conferred on Graduates in Arts after three years' study in the Departments of Law embraced in the Examinations, and on passing the necessary Examinations in these Departments. The Degree of Bachelor of Law (B.L.) is conferred on Candidates who are Graduates in Arts (or who have studied in a recognised University for one year in the Faculty of Arts, and have passed the necessary Preliminary Examinations in Arts), after two years' study of the Departments of Law required for that Degree, and on passing the required Examinations.

Until 1858, the Town-Council had a large share of the patronage of the University. The appointments to such chairs as the Town-Council were patrons of are now in the hands of seven Curators—four elected by the Town-Council and three by the University Court.

The University Library contains about 200,000 printed volumes and about 7000 volumes of valuable MSS. There is also a Theological Library containing about 10,000 valuable books on philosophy and divinity.

The Museum of Science and Art is connected with the University.

The aggregate annual value of the Fellowships and Scholarships (all founded since 1858) is about £7350—viz., in the Faculty of Arts, about £3400; in the Faculty of Science, about £1600; in the Faculty of Divinity, about £560; in the Faculty of Law, about £310; in the Faculty of Medicine, about £1360; and in the Faculty of Music, about £120. There are about 200 Bursaries in connexion with the Faculty of Arts, of the aggregate annual value of about £5200. Some of these Bursaries may be held in other Faculties. For those in the Faculty of Arts that are open by the deeds of foundation to unrestricted competition, there is an annual Bursary Competition at the beginning of each winter session. There are also forty in the Faculty of Divinity, worth annually about £970; eight in the Faculty of Law, worth annually about £200; twenty-nine in the Faculty of Medicine, worth annually about £925. Besides the Prizes given by the Professors and the University Class Medals, there are Prizes awarded in the Faculty of Arts of the value of about £135 annually; in the Faculty of Divinity, of about £135 annually; in the Faculty of Law, of £10 annually; and in the Faculty of Medicine, of about £465 annually.

University Certificates, conferring on those who obtain them the title of Literate in Arts (L.A.), are open to those who have passed the Preliminary Examination, and have subsequently attended in the Faculty of Arts for at least two sessions, and who have given attendance in, and passed examination in the M.A. standard in four subjects, two of which must be from two of the groups mentioned in Section VII. (2) of the Arts Regulations, and the others may be any two mentioned in the Arts Regulations, with the addition of Music and Agriculture (the latter including a practical examination). A Schoolmaster's Diploma of two Grades has been instituted: (a) For Masters of Arts with Honours in any Department, testifying to their fitness for Secondary Schoolmasterships; (b) For those who have taken the ordinary degree of M.A.

The University of Edinburgh is one of the institutions selected by the Secretary of State for India in which candidates for the Civil Service of India may pass their probation.

Local Examinations of schools, corresponding to those of Oxford and Cambridge, are held by the University annually in June.

The University, by an arrangement with the War Office, holds special examinations of students who desire to enter the Army, which the War Office accepts as equivalent to those for a like purpose at the English universities.

The present University Buildings include the Arts, Divinity, and Law College, in the Old University Buildings; the University New Medical School and the School of Music; the Student's Union; and the M'Ewan Hall, approaching completion. The Arts, Divinity, and Law College covers the site of the "Kirk o' Field," the scene of the murder of Darnley. The interior of the quadrangle, which is very handsome, is in the Grecian style. The accommodation therein provided proved inadequate to the rapid growth of the University under the Universities Act (1858). Extensive New Buildings were accordingly constructed for the Faculty of Medicine, provided with laboratories, class-rooms, and Museums, unequalled, probably, in Great Britain for their extent and equipment. The Music Class-room in Park Place was erected in 1860 with an Organ of European celebrity, and a Museum containing a unique collection of musical instruments.

There are two sessions—the winter session, opening in the beginning of October, and closing at the end of March; the summer session, opening in the beginning of May, and closing in the end of July. In the winter session the classes in all the six Faculties are assembled; in summer, most of those in Science, Law and Medicine, and several in Arts.

The number of matriculated students for 1894-95 was 2939—viz., in the Faculty of Arts, 750; in the Faculty of Science, 151; in the Faculty of Divinity, 69; in the Faculty of Law, 446; in the Faculty of Medicine, 1512, and in the Faculty of Music, 11.

The Public Ceremonial of Graduation in Arts, Divinity, Law, and Science is in April; in Medicine in August. The number of Degrees conferred in 1895, after examination, was 438—viz., in Arts (M.A.), 104; Science, 20 (D.Sc. 3, B.Sc. 17); Divinity, 6 (B.D.); Law, 15 (LL.B. 13, B.L. 2); Medicine and Surgery, 293—viz., M.D. 71, M.B. C.M. 221, C.M. 1.

The Degrees of Doctor of Divinity and of Doctor of Laws are conferred honoris causa tantum. The Degree of Doctor of Music (Mus. Doc.) may also be conferred honoris causa tantum.

The General Council meets twice a year—on the first Tuesday after the 14th of April, and on the last Friday of October. The membership of the Council is about 7900. Members enrolled on or before 30th November annually are placed on the registers of the following and subsequent years. The number of those who voted at the contested election of the M.P. in December 1885 was 4036.

Full particulars regarding matriculation, the curriculum of study, and graduation, in each of the Faculties, etc., are contained in the "Edinburgh University Calendar," published annually in May, and may be had on application to the Deans or to the Clerk to the Senatus.

20 CHAMBERS STREET, EDINBURGH.

Secretary, Miss H. F. Mackay.

(The Classes qualify for Graduation in the University of Edinburgh.)

Clinical Instruction in the Royal Infirmary. Dispensary Work at New Town Dispensary and Cowgate Dispensary.

This College was founded and is conducted by the "Scottish Association for the Medical Education of Women," with the special object of affording to Women Students exactly the same facilities for Medical Study as are offered to Male Students in the School of Medicine, Edinburgh. The arrangements for Teaching and the Fees charged are similar to those of the University and the School of Medicine, so that, generally speaking, the regulations of those bodies may be considered as applicable to the Students of the College. All the Teachers in the College are duly qualified Lecturers of the School of Medicine, Edinburgh. The College affords to Women desirous of studying Medicine an opportunity of prosecuting a complete Course of Medical Study, or of attending any individual Class or Classes. Classes required for the Dental and Pharmaceutical Examinations may also be attended at this College. The Classes, with the exception of those in the Royal Infirmary, are open to any woman who chooses to attend them, whether studying Medicine or not. The University of Edinburgh Library is open to Women Students attending Classes with a view to Graduation, who enrol their names in a book kept in the University for that purpose, and pay a fee for the same amount as the matriculation fee paid by Students of the University.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE, DUNDEE.

The classes in this College qualify, under the new Ordinances of the University Commissioners, for the Degrees in Science and Medicine of the Universities of Edinburgh and Glasgow. They are so arranged as to prepare students for the Degrees of the University of London and the Royal University of Ireland; they also qualify for the Licenses of the Royal Colleges of England and Scotland, for the Examinations of the Indian Civil Service, and for the University of Oxford examinations open to women without residence. The Laboratories are fitted with every appliance for study and research.

Teaching began in the College in the winter session of 1883. The academical year is divided into two sessions,—a winter session from the middle of October to the end of March, and a summer session extending from the end of April to the beginning of July. There are now ten chairs:—(1) Mathematics, (2) Natural Philosophy, (3) Chemistry (including dyeing and bleaching), (4) Engineering and Drawing, (5) Classics and Ancient History, (6) English Language and Literature, (7) Natural History,

(8) Botany, (9) Anatomy, (10) Physiology. There are also Lectureships in French and German, Fine Art, Systematic, Operative and Clinical Surgery, Clinical Medicine, Medical Jurisprudence and Public Health, Ophthalmology, and Mental Diseases.

The necessary tutorial instruction is also provided in the subjects required for the various Preliminary Examinations. Recent Ordinances of the Scottish University Commissioners provide for the completion of the Medical curriculum by the addition of Chairs of Pathology, Materia Medica, Medicine, Surgery, and Midwifery. Clinical instruction in Medicine and Surgery is provided at the Dundee Royal Infirmary, and in Mental Diseases at the Dundee Royal Asylum.

An important part of the scheme is the conducting of evening classes, intended for those who, while unable to enter on a systematic course of training during the day, can yet afford time for the prosecution of such studies as they may undertake.

The following Scholarships and Bursaries have been established in the College:—1. Entrance Scholarships.—Three Armitstead Scholarships of £20 each, tenable for one year. Founded and endowed in 1883 by George Armitstead, Esq., M.P. Three Scholarships of £15 each, tenable for one year. The competition for the Scholarships is open to all persons of either sex, who have not been day students of the College during a winter session. 2. Second Year's Scholarships.—Three Armitstead Scholarships of £20 each (one in Arts, the others in Science and Medicine), tenable for one year, open to day students, who must have attended not less than two regular courses at the College during the year preceding the competition. 3. The Smart Bursary in Engineering.—Consisting of the free proceeds of the sum of £500 gifted by James Smart, Esq., of Brechin, in 1883. It is tenable for one year. 4. The Laing Bursary in Engineering.—Free proceeds of the sum of £450, tenable for one year. This bursary was founded in 1890, having been bequeathed by the late James Laing, Esq. Candidates for these bursaries must have been day students for not more than one year, and are only eligible between the ages of 16 and 25. 5. Patrick A. Lawson Memorial Scholarship, of the value of £60 per annum, is tenable for two years at any university in the United Kingdom. Candidates must have attended some school in Dundee or Broughty Ferry for three years. 6. Bute Bursary.—Free proceeds of £1000, and is in the gift of the Lord Provost of Dundee. This bursary was founded by the Most Honourable the Marquess of Bute, K.T., in 1893. 7. Educational Endowment Bursaries.—Two Bursaries of the annual value of £25, and tenable for three years, either at University College, Dundee, or at any Scottish University, or at the Technical Institute, Dundee, are awarded under the above Trust.

CHIEF MAGISTRATES AND TOWN-CLERKS OF ROYAL,
PARLIAMENTARY, AND MUNICIPAL BURGHS,

WITH STATISTICAL NOTICES.

[In the following list are given statistics of 82 towns—namely, 55 Royal Burghs sending representatives to Parliament; 11 Royal Burghs which do not send representatives to Parliament; 1 Municipal Burgh (Coatbridge), created as such by a special Act in 1885; and 15 Towns which are not Royal Burghs, but send representatives to Parliament, under the provisions of the Reform Acts 1 & 2 Wm. IV. c. 65, and 31 & 32 Vict. c. 48. These 15 Parliamentary Burghs (distinguished in the following pages by *) are, Airdrie,* Cromarty, Falkirk, Galashiels, Greenock, Hamilton, Hawick, Kilmarnock, Leith, Musselburgh, Oban, Paisley, Peterhead, Port-Glasgow, and Portobello. At the Union of England and Scotland, there were 70 Royal Burghs in Scotland, but four of them in the county of Fife—Auchtermuchty, Earlsferry, Falkland, and Newburgh—which had not for some time sent members to the Scottish Parliament, were not included in the classes of burghs then formed to send representatives to the British Parliament. Their constituencies, in terms of the Act 1832, now vote in the election of a representative in Parliament for the county of Fife. Besides these four, there are other two Royal Burghs (distinguished in the following pages by †) which had (as burghs) a † parliamentary representation from the Union till 1832, viz., Peebles and Rothesay, and nine (distinguished by ‡) which possessed the same privilege ‡ from the Union till 1885, viz., Dunbar, Haddington, Jedburgh, Lauder, New Galloway, North Berwick, Stranraer, Whithorn, and Wigtown. Their constituencies now vote in the election of representatives for the counties within which they are situated. The value of real property is that within the parliamentary boundaries, as ascertained under the Valuation of Lands and Heritages Act (17 and 18 Vict. c. 91).]

- II. POOR AND SCHOOL RATES.—Poor Rates  $6\frac{1}{2}$ , Schools  $9\frac{1}{2}$  = 1s.  $4\frac{1}{2}$  on nine-tenths rental, whereof on Owner  $3\frac{1}{2}$  and  $4\frac{1}{2}$  =  $7\frac{1}{2}$ ; Occupier  $3\frac{1}{2}$  and 5d. =  $8\frac{1}{2}$ . Approximate equivalent rates on gross rental, total 1s.  $2\frac{1}{8}$ , whereof on Owner  $7\frac{1}{8}$ , and on Occupier  $7\frac{1}{8}$  per £.
- III. WATER RATES.—Domestic Rate (Occupier)  $5\frac{1}{8}$ , and Public Rate 1d. per £, the latter divided equally between Owner and Occupier. Rate on Shops 2d. per £, but not going above charge on £120 (= £1), on Occupiers, and Public Rate of 1d. per £ as above.
- IV. GOVERNMENT RATES.—1. Inhabited House Duty (Occupier only), on rents of £20 to £40, 3d.; £41 to £60, 6d.; and £61 and upwards, 9d. per £.—Shops, on similar rentals, 2d., 4d., and 6d. per £ respectively. The Act authorizes the assessing of Lodging-house Keepers on the scale applicable to shops.—2. Property Tax (Owners only), 8d.,—but under abatements amounting in all to about  $21\frac{3}{8}$  per cent. (5 per cent. in respect of burden of Owner's Rates, and one-sixth of rental =  $16\frac{2}{3}$  per cent., under recent Act), thus reducing equivalent rate on the gross rental to, say,  $6\frac{1}{8}$  per £.—3. Land Tax, exigible from Royalties (as prior to Act of 1856), the Southern Districts, Canongate and Pleasance,  $\frac{1}{8}$ d. per £ on Owner. In the following Table the Land Tax is held to apply to the City Parish only, up to year 1894-95, and it is thereafter omitted, as it affects a comparatively small portion of the now united City Parish.

EDUCATIONAL ESTABLISHMENTS.

The date of the foundation of the High School is unknown, but it appears to have existed as early as the beginning of the twelfth century. From that time to the Reformation, "the Grammar School of Edinburgh," as it was then called, was under the control of the Canons of Holyrood. In 1598 it was remodelled on a more comprehensive plan, and from the patronage vouchsafed to it by James VI., it received the name of Schola Regia Edimburgensis. The course of study has since, from time to time, been extended and improved, so as to meet the advancing demands of the age. Although at first exclusively a classical seminary, it now furnishes systematic instruction in all the departments of a Scientific and Commercial as well as of a Liberal Education. The English Language and Literature, including Reading, Orthography, Recitation, Grammar, and Composition, together with the History of Great Britain, form prominent parts of the system; while the entire curriculum of study—which occupies nine years—embraces the Latin, Greek, French, and German languages, History, Geography, Physics, Chemistry, Zoology, and Physiology, with Writing, Book-keeping, Arithmetic, Algebra and Geometry, Drawing, Fencing, Gymnastics, Swimming, and Military Drill. There is a Library containing nearly 7000 volumes selected by the Rector and Masters.

to which all the pupils have access, and a special Lending Library of books suitable for boys. There is a complete equipment of chemical and physical laboratories, workshops, etc.

The High School originally stood in the Old Town, near the site of the old Infirmary. It was rebuilt on nearly the same spot in 1777. As this situation had become unsuitable, from the great extension of the city northwards, and as the accommodation had proved inadequate to the rapidly increasing number of pupils, the present splendid structure was founded in 1825, on the south slope of the Calton Hill, which was deemed more convenient for the inhabitants of the city. The edifice, which cost £30,000, and was designed by the late Thomas Hamilton, R.S.A., architect, was completed in 1829. To this has now been added, at a cost of over £10,000, another building containing the Preparatory and Junior English Class-Rooms, Drawing Room, Chemical Laboratories, Gymnasium and Swimming Bath, and the Rector's Private and Class Rooms.

The main building, 270 feet in length, has a magnificent hexastyle Doric portico in the centre, which is united to the wings by two corridors, the entablatures of which are supported by twelve columns, also of the Doric order. There is ample accommodation for conducting the various branches of study. The playground, a portion of which is roofed over, is spacious, extending to nearly two acres, and commands a picturesque view of the ancient city and surrounding country.

EDINBURGH ACADEMY, HENDERSON ROW.

The Edinburgh Academy, which was established in 1824, and incorporated by Royal Charter from George IV., is under the superintendence of a Board of fifteen Directors, three of whom are elected annually from the body of proprietors. The Academy consists of two departments, a preparatory and upper school. The former takes boys from five or six to nine or ten; and the latter continues their education till eighteen or nineteen. In the upper school the average number of boys in a class is 21, and in the preparatory school 18. The Senior Division of the upper school is divided into three sections:—I. The Greek section; II. the German and Science section; III. the Military and Engineering section. The School thus prepares boys for the universities in England and Scotland, for business life, for Sandhurst, Woolwich, Cooper's Hill, and the public services. In the Junior Division of the upper school the course is practically uniform for all boys. It includes Latin, French, Mathematics, English, Singing, Writing, Drawing, and Elementary Science. All boys in the upper school have two hours of Gymnastics in the week; and unless exempted on special grounds by the Rector, must on three afternoons in the week take part, either in the regular school games, or in a special course of drill, etc., provided as an alternative.

The preparatory school is under the charge of the Rector, but its classrooms and play hours at the Academy are distinct from those of the upper school. In this school the lowest class is an A, B, C class, while the highest is ready to begin Latin or French.

The Academy is situated a quarter of a mile to the north of the Royal Circus. It is a handsome building, after a design by Mr Burn, and cost upwards of £16,000. A large Gymnasium and Scientific Laboratory were built in 1890, and six new schoolrooms since 1892. Besides a playground of three acres, in the centre of which it stands, it has a cricket-ground of nine acres, its own property, within a short distance of the school, for the exclusive use of present and former pupils. In addition to this, a second field of nine acres has just been bought, which will be ready for occupation next session.

FETTES COLLEGE, COMELY BANK.

The Fettes College and Endowment are due to the beneficent bequest of the late Sir William Fettes, Bart., of Comely Bank, twice Lord Provost of the city of Edinburgh. He was born in 1750, and died in 1836. The administration of the endowment is now in the hands of the Governors of the Fettes Trust, acting under the Scheme of the Educational Endowment (Scotland) Commission, dated 3d April 1886. At present fifty foundationers (children of parents who are, from innocent misfortune during their own lives, unable to give suitable education to their children, or who have died without leaving sufficient funds for that purpose) are maintained and educated at the College free of charge. Vacancies are filled up by the Governors once a year. Non-foundationers are received as at other public schools, and for their accommodation there are four Boarding-Houses, which are situated within the College grounds and under the charge of College Masters. The instruction at the College includes all the branches of a liberal education of the highest class, and is intended to qualify for the Universities and for professional life.

GEORGE HERIOT'S TRUST.

George Heriot was born at Edinburgh about the year 1563. He followed his father's trade of a goldsmith, and in 1597 was appointed goldsmith to Anne of Denmark, the queen of James VI. Shortly afterwards he became jeweller and goldsmith to the king; and when the court was removed to London, in 1603, Heriot followed in its train. He died there February 12, 1624, having by a will dated in the previous year, bequeathed the residue of his property, amounting to £23,625, to the erection of an hospital, "for the mainetenance, releife, bringing upp, and education of poore fatherlesse boyes, freemen's sonnes of the towne of Edinburgh."

The foundation-stone of George Heriot's Hospital, Lauriston, was laid July 1, 1628, but owing to the civil war and other causes, the building was not opened till April 11, 1659. The cost of the erection exceeded £30,000 sterling.

The original trustees of Heriot's Endowment were the Lord Provost, Magistrates, and Town Council, and the city ministers of Edinburgh; and by them and their successors in office the Trust continued to be administered till August 1885. At that date the Endowed Schools (Scotland) Commissioners issued a Scheme by which the governing body was reconstituted, and the number of its members reduced from fifty-four to twenty-one, of whom twelve are appointed by the Town Council (one of these must be elected from among the ministers of religion officiating in Edinburgh, not being member of the Established Church of Scotland), three by the School Board of Edinburgh, two by the City Ministers of Edinburgh, two by the Senatus of the University of Edinburgh, one by the Royal Society of Edinburgh, and one by the Edinburgh Chamber of Commerce.

Besides altering the composition and number of the governing body, the scheme also made considerable changes in the mode of applying the income of the Trust, and the main objects to which this is now devoted may be summarized as follows:—(1) The maintenance of George Heriot's Hospital School, which is open to fee-paying as well as free pupils; (2) the maintenance of the Heriot-Watt College, for "providing technical and general education for the industrial classes of both sexes, on a scale suitable to the great and increasing wants of these classes;" and (3) the foundation of bursaries for the promotion of secondary and higher education, tenable at George Heriot's Hospital School, the High School, the Heriot-Watt College, and the University.

This institution, the annual provision for which, from the funds of George Heriot's Trust, is to be not less than £4000, is mainly intended to give thorough scientific instruction, at moderate fees, to students in attendance at evening classes. Day-classes for higher technical training were established in the College in 1888. In the bursary system established in connexion with the Heriot-Watt College, are included bursaries (1) of £2 for "covering the cost of education and books" of students requiring aid in attending the evening classes; (2) of £40 for assisting students to carry on their education in the day technical department, or in the University of Edinburgh; and (3) of £30 to students in the day classes, to enable them to continue their studies there.

There are over 3000 students (male and female) in attendance this session (1895-96).

THE EDINBURGH MERCHANT COMPANY ENDOWMENTS AND SCHOOLS.

1. THE EDINBURGH LADIES' COLLEGE,

70, 72, and 73 QUEEN STREET.

This Institution was founded in 1695 by the Company of Merchants, and Mary Erskine, widow of James Hair, druggist in Edinburgh, as an hospital for girls and was known as the Merchant Maiden Hospital. The Governors obtained an Act of Parliament in 1707. The original edifice was situated in Bristo Street; but having become insufficient for its purpose, the foundation stone of another building was laid in Lauriston in 1816; and the erection, which was designed by Mr Burn, was completed in 1818, at the cost of £12,250. Up to 1870 this building continued to be used as an hospital for the board and education of the foundationers, but in that year it was converted, under a Provisional Order, into a day-school, and opened as such in September 1870. It having been sold to the Governors of George Watson's Hospital, the Governors of this institution purchased extensive buildings in Queen Street for the purposes of the institution, and they were opened in October 1871. The institution provides a high-class education, the course of study embracing English, French, German, Latin, lectures on literature and science, writing, arithmetic, book-keeping, mathematics, drawing, vocal music, pianoforte, drill, calisthenics, dancing, gymnastics, needlework, cookery, and sick-nursing. Religious instruction is given in all the classes. The Governors had the right of presenting thirty-four foundationers to the hospital, but an amending Provisional Order, obtained in 1888, directs that this number be reduced to twenty, and that the Governors shall also elect twenty-one foundationers by competitive examination from among the girls attending the day schools of the Merchant Maiden Hospital. Power is given to increase the number of merit foundationers from time to time should the Governors consider that the funds of the Endowment warrant such increase. Girls attending the institution may obtain, by competition, the following benefits, viz., 1. A presentation to the foundation; 2. And a bursary on leaving the institution of £25 a year, and tenable for four years, equal to £100. Besides the above benefits, a large number of school bursaries is awarded at the end of each session, equal in value to the cost of the successful competitor's class-fees for the following year. There are also awarded to pupils attending the Institution bursaries in connexion with the Practical Training School of Cookery and Housekeeping.

The foundationers are, under the supervision of the Governors, boarded with families in Edinburgh. When admitted to the foundation, the girls must be of the age of nine and under that of sixteen years, and the qualification is, "that they be the children or grandchildren of such who are or were merchant burgesses of Edinburgh, or ministers of Edinburgh, Canongate, Leith, or West Church, or who have been governors of, or benefactors to, the hospital." The children or grandchildren of burgesses only, or of burgesses and Guild brethren who have been admitted subsequently to 1st January 1881, and have not been admitted members of the Merchant Company, are not eligible. There are, however, certain private rights of presentation which are not restricted to the above privileged classes. On leaving, foundationers by ordinary election and presentees receive £9, 6s. 8d. each, with the exception of the Earl of Mar's presentees, who receive £14, 6s. 8d. each.

2. GEORGE WATSON'S COLLEGES.

(1.) COLLEGE FOR BOYS.—LAURISTON.

George Watson, born at Edinburgh about 1650, served an apprenticeship to a merchant in the city, and, after a short residence in Holland, entered into the service of Sir James Dick, a wealthy trader in Edinburgh. This employment he relinquished in 1695, on being appointed accountant to the Bank of Scotland. He died in April 1723, and by his will bequeathed £12,000 to endow an hospital for the maintenance and instruction of boys possessing certain qualifications. An hospital for the board and education of the foundationers was founded in the year 1738, and opened in June 1741, and it continued to be used for this purpose until 1870, when the governors of the four hospitals connected with the Merchant Company, taking advantage of the powers given by the Endowed Institutions (Scotland) Act, applied for and obtained Provisional Orders empowering them to convert the hospitals into day-schools, and they were opened as such in September 1870. This building was, however, sold to the corporation of the Royal Infirmary in 1871, and the building formerly called the Merchant Maiden Hospital was acquired for and is as enlarged now being occupied as George Watson's College for Boys. The design of the schools is to provide boys with a liberal education, qualifying them for commercial or professional life, the civil service, the universities, etc. The course of study includes English, Latin, Greek, French, German, writing, arithmetic, book-keeping, shorthand writing, mathematics, drawing, vocal music, natural and physical science, chemistry, drill, and gymnastics. Religious instruction is given in all the classes. The Provisional Order directs that the number of foundationers shall be reduced to sixty, and, under the amending order of 1888, at least one-fourth of these shall be elected by competitive examination from the day scholars attending the Boys' Schools of George Watson's Hospital. Boys attending the College may obtain, by competition, the following benefits—viz., 1. A presentation to one of the foundations of this College; and 2. A bursary on leaving the schools of £25 a year, and tenable for four years, equal to £100. Besides the above benefits, a large number of school bursaries is awarded at the end of each session, equal in value to the cost of the successful competitor's class-fees for the following year. Under the Order of 1888, the Governors have power to found three open fellowships of the value of £100 each per annum, tenable for any period not exceeding three years, to aid students of promise and merit in the prosecution of their professional studies in any department of science, art, or literature, whether in this country or abroad, and who have attended at least two sessions at Edinburgh University, and such fellowships shall be granted upon a competitive examination.

The order of preference among children entitled to be elected to the foundation by favour is now as follows:—1. Sons and grandsons of burgesses and Guild brethren who have been admitted members of the Merchant Company, and sons or grandsons of Ministers of Old Church, Edinburgh, those belonging to these two classes being equally eligible. 2. Sons and grandsons of burgesses and Guild brethren admitted prior to 1st January 1881, not members of the Merchant Company.

The foundationers are, under the supervision of the governors, boarded in families in Edinburgh. When admitted as foundationers, they must be of the age of nine and under that of fourteen years. On leaving, each foundationer by favour is allowed £7 for clothes; he may receive, for five years of an apprenticeship, £10 annually; and on attaining the age of twenty-five, a further sum of £50 to enable him to commence business in Edinburgh.

(2.) COLLEGE FOR LADIES.—GEORGE SQUARE.

The governors have also, in virtue of power given them in the Provisional Order of 1870, established a school for girls called George Watson's Ladies' College. The school buildings have been reconstructed and largely added to by the Governors, so as to make them more commodious, and in every respect suitable as a Young Ladies' Institution. The course of study is the same as that of the Edinburgh Ladies' College, and girls attending the school have, under an amending Order obtained in 1888, similar benefits open for their competition, the Cookery Bursaries being awarded in connexion with the Edinburgh School of Cookery and Domestic Economy. ## 3. DANIEL STEWART'S COLLEGE (FOR BOYS), DEAN.

Daniel Stewart of the Exchequer, who died in 1814, left the residue of his property (amounting, after the erection and endowment of a free school in his native parish of Logierait, to upwards of £13,000), to accumulate for the purpose of building and endowing an hospital for the maintenance and education of boys, the children of honest and industrious parents, whose circumstances in life do not enable them suitably to support and educate their children at other schools. Taking advantage of the powers given by a Provisional Order obtained in 1870, the hospital was opened as a day-school in September of that year. This institution provides boys with a liberal education, and the course of study is similar to that in George Watson's College for Boys. The Provisional Order directs that the number of foundationers shall be reduced to forty, and, under the amending Order of 1888, at least one-half of them shall be elected by competitive examination from the day scholars of this institution. Boys attending the institution have valuable benefits open for their competition.

The boys, on admission to the foundation, must be of the age of nine and under that of fourteen years.

4. JAMES GILLESPIE'S SCHOOLS (FOR BOYS AND GIRLS),

BRUNTSFIELD LINKS.

This institution was founded by James Gillespie of Spylaw, merchant and tobaccoconist in Edinburgh, who, by his will dated in the year 1796, destined the greater part of his property to the endowment of a charitable school, and of an hospital for the aliment and maintenance of old men and women. The edifice, which was designed by Mr Burn, was founded in 1801, and opened in 1802. The free school was founded in 1801, and opened in 1803. Up to 1870 the hospital continued to be occupied by old persons, of whom about 40 were maintained in it. In that year the Governors obtained a Provisional Order empowering them to convert the hospital into day-schools, and it was opened as such in September 1870. A large and commodious infant hall has been recently completed. These schools—the main building of which has been greatly enlarged—are established as primary schools, and the course of instruction includes English in all the branches, geography, history, writing, book-keeping, arithmetic, mathematics, Latin, French and German, domestic economy, elementary science, shorthand; drawing, freehand, model, and geometrical; vocal music, and drill. The girls are also taught sewing, knitting, cutting-out, and the sewing-machine. Religious instruction is given in all the classes. Arrangements have been made by which pupils may obtain instruction in the pianoforte, dancing, and practical cookery at moderate fees. Under an amending Order obtained in 1888, power is continued to the Governors to grant forty school bursaries at the end of each session, equal in value to the cost of the successful competitor's class-fees for the following year; and a new power is conferred on the Governors, viz., to establish twelve higher school bursaries of a value not exceeding £10 each per annum, tenable for a period not exceeding three years, to enable promising pupils to attend at the higher class schools of the Company—such pupils receiving, in addition, free education at these schools.

Those entitled to the benefits of the hospital as aged foundationers are persons not under 55 years of age, first, of the name of Gillespie, whatever part of Scotland they may come from; and, second, persons belonging to Edinburgh and its suburbs; failing these, persons from Leith, Newhaven, and other parts of Mid-Lothian; whom failing, persons from any part of Scotland. By the Provisional Order of 1870, the Governors have power, instead of maintaining the foundationers in the then present or any other building, to allow them a pension of not less than £10 and not exceeding £25 a year.

This Institution was founded in 1704 by the Freemen of the Incorporated Trades, aided by Mary Erskine, widow of Jas. Hair, druggist. The Governors were incorporated by statute in 1707.

The management is in the Deacons of the twelve Incorporations, two Trades-Councillors, the Earl of Mar and Kellie, and another of the name of Erskine, the Preses of the Society of Barbers, and nine persons elected by the other Governors,—in all, twenty-six. Fifty-four girls are maintained in the Institution. Those eligible for admission under presentations held by the Trades Incorporations or the Society of Barbers of the city of Edinburgh are the daughters or granddaughters, whom failing, the great-granddaughters of freemen craftsmen, of the presenting Incorporation, whom failing the descendants within the like degree of the members of other Incorporations, or any girl qualified by age and health, though unconnected with an Incorporation, and in the case of private presentations, any girl qualified by age and otherwise presented by the holder of the presentation. The Governors, in exercising the eight presentations in their gift, give a preference to descendants of members of Incorporations. Girls are required, when admitted, to be of the age of seven and under that of eleven years: they are not retained above the age of seventeen. ## THE ORPHAN HOSPITAL, DEAN.

This Institution was projected in 1727 by Andrew Gairdner, merchant in Edinburgh; and in 1733 a house was hired, and thirty children received into it. In 1735 an edifice was erected near the Trinity College Church; but by the increase of the city this situation being rendered unhealthy, the present building was erected in 1833, from the designs of the late Mr Thomas Hamilton. The revenue is derived from voluntary contributions and legacies, in addition to the interest on accumulated donations since its foundation.

About 120 boys and girls, including presentees and boarders, are maintained in the Institution, the benefits of which are not confined to any district of Scotland. When admitted they must be fatherless, and of the age of seven and not above ten years: they receive the benefit of a godly upbringing and a comfortable home. The children are now sent for education to the Dean Board School. Boarders from any part of Scotland are received into the Hospital at £16 per annum for boys, and £14 for girls, which include all expenses of whatever kind. Various rights of presentation are held by certain families and public bodies and others.

JOHN WATSON'S INSTITUTION, DEAN.

In the year 1759, John Watson, writer to the signet, bequeathed the residue of his estate to certain Trustees, by them to be applied "to such pious and charitable uses within the City of Edinburgh as they shall think proper." In the year 1822 an Act of Parliament was obtained, empowering the Trustees to establish and endow "an hospital for the maintenance and education therein of destitute children, and bringing them up to be useful members of society; and also for assisting in their outset in life such of them as may be thought to deserve and require such aid."

The edifice, which was designed by Mr William Burn, was founded in 1825, and completed in 1828. About 100 children are maintained in it. The principal objects of the Institution are the maintenance, education, and support of destitute fatherless children of the better classes, such as of clergymen, officers in the army and navy, legal and medical practitioners, and the like, until they attain the age of fourteen. When admitted, they must have completed the seventh year of their age, and be under the age of ten. They are instructed in English, Latin, French, mathematics, drawing, vocal and instrumental music, dancing, drill, etc.

The establishment is under the management of fifteen directors,—the Keeper and Deputy-keeper of the Signet, the Treasurer of the Institution, and twelve Commissioners of the Writers to the Signet. The fund, which in 1781 amounted to less than £5000, has been largely increased by the care and attention of the Trustees.

CAUVIN'S HOSPITAL, DUNNINGTON.

This Institution was founded by Louis Cauvin, Teacher of French in Edinburgh, and afterwards farmer at Dunnington, who died in 1825, bequeathing his property for the erection and endowment of "an Hospital for the relief, maintenance, and education of the sons of respectable but poor teachers; the sons of poor but honest farmers; whom failing, the sons of respectable master-printers or booksellers, and the sons of respectable servants in the agricultural line." This settlement was explained and modified, and the Governors incorporated, by a parliamentary statute in 1827.

The management is in the survivor of certain individuals nominated by the founder, and others assumed by them, and in the following ex officio trustees, viz., the Lord Provost of the City, the Principal of the University, the Rector of the High School, the Ministers of Dunnington, Liberton, and Newton, the Proprietor of the estate of Niddrie, and the Factor for the Duke of Abercorn.

The Institution, which is situated at Dunnington, was opened in 1833, and the number of boys at present maintained there is sixteen. At the period of their election they must be not less than seven and not more than eleven years of age. In ordinary course the boys leave the Hospital at the close of the Session after they have completed their fourteenth year. They are taught the ordinary branches of education, and Latin, Greek, French, German, and Mathematics.

DONALDSON'S HOSPITAL, COLTBRIDGE.

This Hospital was founded by James Donaldson of Broughton Hall, printer, who died at Edinburgh in October 1830, bequeathing the greater part of his property, amounting to about £200,000, to trustees, for the endowment and erection of an hospital for the maintenance of poor boys and girls, after the plan of the Orphan Hospital in Edinburgh and John Watson's Institution.

The building can accommodate 250 children; it contains at present 216 children (118 boys and 98 girls), of whom 112 (57 boys and 55 girls) are deaf and dumb. Those eligible for admission are declared to be, "1st, Poor children of the name of Donaldson or Marshall, if appearing to the Governors to be deserving; 2nd, Such poor children as shall appear to be in the most destitute circumstances and the most deserving of admission." None are received whose parents are able to maintain them. The children are clothed and maintained in the Hospital, and taught such useful branches of a plain English education as will fit the boys for trades and the girls for obtaining remunerative employment. The age of admission is from seven till nine, and that of leaving the Hospital fourteen years.

The building, which occupies a commanding position at the west end of the city, is a large and beautiful quadrangular structure, in the Elizabethan style, from a design by the late W. H. Playfair.

CRIGHTON BEQUEST.

By his trust-disposition and settlement the late Mr James Crighton, merchant in Edinburgh, who died in November 1889, bequeathed to the Lord Provost, Magistrates, and Council, Governors of Trinity Hospital, the sum of £5000, to be invested to provide pensions of £15 each, with £5 of funeral money; the pensioners must be 70 years of age or upwards at the time of their election, and the other qualifications are the same as for Trinity Hospital.

ALEXANDER FUND.

Formerly this fund was administered by the Governors of the Trinity Hospital, in conjunction with the Trinity Hospital Fund proper; but by interlocutor of the Lords of Council and Session, of 3rd February 1880, the management has been vested in a body of Trustees, and a scheme adopted by the Court for its future administration. Under this scheme the free income is to be divided amongst twelve beneficiaries, eight men and four women, with a maximum pension of £27, 15s. 6d. In the event of the free income of the fund being more than sufficient to provide for these, the Trustees have power to appoint additional pensioners, and they have discretionary powers as to the amount of such pensions. Applicants for the fund must be unmarried when elected, and not under 50 years of age, excepting any additional beneficiaries whom the Trustees may appoint, in the selection of whom there shall be no restriction of sex or marriage. The beneficiaries shall be indigent persons of good reputation who have not fallen into decay through their own vice and prodigality, and who are not in receipt of parochial relief. First, those of the kindred of Mr Alexander of Knockhill, who died in 1696, either upon his father's or his mother's side; Secondly, Those of the surname of Alexander, who shall apply within threescore days next after any vacancy shall be publicly announced; and Thirdly, Other persons qualified as aforesaid as the Patrons shall think fit. All persons bearing the name of Alexander, whether as their parents' name or their husbands' name, shall be deemed to fall within the favouring clause of the bequest. Applicants not claiming on the footing of being entitled to a preference must have resided in Edinburgh for two years, and for that period must have supported themselves by their own industry, or at least without aid from any charity.

THE CATHOLIC WORKING BOYS' HOME,

50 AND 52 LAURISTON PLACE.

This Home was founded in 1889, and received Government certification in 1891, for the purpose of helping orphan and other working boys who are left to their own resources. It provides them with Board, Lodgings, and Clothing if necessary. The boys hand their earnings to the Committee, but this does not meet the outlay for maintenance, rent, etc., therefore the Institution is largely dependent on the contributions of the benevolent. The Home has just doubled its accommodation, and at a cost of £2000 the premises have been purchased. The necessary alterations and furnishings will cost a further £400, and, as the "Building Fund" amounts to £430, Special Contributions are appealed for to clear off the debt of £2000. At present there are 43 boys in the Home apprenticed to tradesmen in the city, but when the alterations are completed, there will be comfortable accommodation for nearly 60 boys.

THE CHALMERS HOSPITAL, LAURISTON.

George Chalmers, plumber in Edinburgh, who died March 10, 1836, bequeathed the greater part of his fortune, estimated at about £30,000, for the erection and endowment of an Hospital "for the Sick and Hurt."

The management of the charity is in the Dean and Faculty of Advocates. After allowing the fund to accumulate for some years, in conformity with the will of the founder, the trustees erected an Hospital at Lauriston, which was opened for patients early in 1864.

The Hospital has male and female private wards in which home comforts, in addition to medical attendance, are given at 5s. per diem—besides the male and female free wards.

LIBERAL CONDITIONS OF ASSURANCE.

THE STANDARD COMPANY has long taken the lead in SIMPLIFYING THE CONDITIONS and LIBERALIZING THE CONTRACT of Life Assurance, thereby giving greatly increased Security to the holders of the Company's Policies, an advantage of especial value when the Assurance is intended to be assigned or to form the basis of pecuniary obligations. The marked success which has attended the progress of the Company is, no doubt, due in a great measure to the liberality of its dealings.

Perusal of the following terms will show some of the advantages to be derived by effecting an Assurance with the "Standard."

FREE RESIDENCE IN ANY PART OF THE WORLD.—When the Directors are satisfied that a person proposed for Assurance has no intention or prospect of proceeding beyond the limits of Europe, he being at the same time 25 years of age complete, he will receive a Free Policy entitling him at any future time to reside in any part of the world without licence or payment of extra premium; and the same privileges are extended, without special application, to persons assured for five years, who not having been granted Free Policies at the outset, have since attained Thirty years of age, have not been beyond the Company's free limits for five years previously, and are not of military or seafaring occupation.

RENEWAL OF POLICIES.—Thirty days are allowed for payment of the renewal Premium in all cases, and thirteen months altogether under Policies of five years' standing, with a few exceptions, without medical certificate, on payment of a small fine; and if death occurs within these thirteen months, the claim is still binding on the Company. After the thirteen months the Policy is forfeited, but the surrender value remains available for five years, as explained in the Company's Prospectus. Policies of less than five years' standing may also be renewed after the expiry of thirty days on liberal terms.

CLAIMS are payable on proof of death and title on all Policies.

A STANDARD POLICY IS UNCHALLENGEABLE after two years on any ground whatever connected with the original documents proceeding on which the Assurance was granted, age having been proved.

FIXED SURRENDER VALUES.—These are on a very liberal scale, and are fully stated in the Company's Prospectus. Paid-up Policies are also granted in exchange for Surrender Values.

LIFE ASSURANCE.

EARLY BONUS SCHEME (E.B.)

The following among other special advantages apply to ordinary Policies issued under this Scheme. Besides being payable immediately on proof of death and title, they are, at the end of Three years from their date,

Entitled to rank for Bonus Additions;

Indisputable on the ground of Errors or Omissions;

World-Wide without Extra Charge; and

Liable only to Reduction in Amount on Non-payment of the Premiums.

At the Division of Profits for the Five years ending 31st December 1894, Ordinary Life Policies under this Scheme received a BONUS ADDITION of £1, 10s. per cent. for each year since they were entitled to rank.

SPECIAL BONUS SCHEME (D.B.)

Under this Scheme Profit Policies are issued at Rates which do not exceed and in many cases fall short of the Non-Profit Rates of other Offices

They share in the Profits when the Premiums received, accumulated at 4 per cent. compound interest, amount to the Sum Assured.

Policies issued at these very economical Rates practically receive a large Bonus at the outset.

At age 30, £1200 with right to Profits can be insured for the same Premium as would be charged for £1000 under the usual Profit Schemes of most Offices.

Policies of this class which have for the first time become entitled to rank for Bonus, have received additions at the rate of £10 per cent. at least, besides a further progressive addition of £1 per cent. per annum, and Policies which participated at last division received a further addition of £2, 10s. per cent., and to those which then received a contingent addition a Bonus at the rate of 10s. per cent. in respect of each year which elapsed since the date of their commencing to rank was added.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

IMPORTANT FEATURES.

The LIFE POLICIES issued by this Company in most cases possess the following IMPORTANT ADVANTAGES:—

1. They are INDISPUTABLE.

SCOTTISH PROVIDENT INSTITUTION.

The Advantages to Assurers are:—

The PREMIUMS are so moderate that at usual ages of Assurance £1200 or £1250 may generally be secured from the first for the yearly payment which would usually elsewhere be charged (with Profits) for £1000 only—equivalent to an immediate and certain Bonus of 20 to 25 per cent.

The Whole SURPLUS goes to the Policyholders, on a safe and equitable system,—no share being given to those by whose early death there is a loss to the Common Fund.

The SURPLUS at the Seventh Septennial Investigation, with Division of Profits, amounted to £1,423,018, or deducting amount already paid as Intermediate Bonuses, £1,362,186—of which £970,390 was divided among 13,220 Policies entitled to participate, and £391,796 reserved for future accumulation and division.

THE DISTINCTIVE SYSTEM OF THE INSTITUTION IS SPECIALLY SUITABLE FOR ASSURANCES REQUIRED FOR

FAMILY PROVISIONS; MARRIAGE SETTLEMENTS;

AND

PARTNERSHIP OR OTHER BUSINESS ARRANGEMENTS;

and for all cases where it is of special importance that the Premium be moderate and at the same time secure

RIGHT TO PARTICIPATE IN THE WHOLE SURPLUS.

* A person of 30 may secure £1000 at death by a yearly payment, during life, of £20, 15s., which would generally elsewhere secure £800 only.

Or he may secure £1000 by 21 yearly payments of £27, 13s. 4d.

† At age 40 the Premium ceasing at 60 is, for £1000, £33, 14s. 2d., being about the same as most offices require during life.

THE FUNDS exceed 9 MILLIONS.

Arrangements as to SURRENDER, NON-FORFEITURE, LOANS ON POLICIES, IMMEDIATE PAYMENT OF CLAIMS, FREE RESIDENCE, &c., are specially liberal.
